

ruMAD?

are you Making A Difference?

...engaging students in learning through social change.

...supporting teachers to implement key aspects of the Tasmanian and national curricula for primary & secondary.

The Tasmanian Centre for Global Learning can assist schools to implement this award winning social justice education framework. We provide training, curriculum materials, resources, mentoring and access to community networks.

2010 professional development options include:

- ▶ A 1 hour introductory session at your school
FREE to TCGL members, $66 non-members
- ▶ 4 hours of PD at your school - the minimum required to implement ruMAD? in your classroom.
Cost per school:
$308 TCGL members, $385 non-members (1 x 4 hours)
$352 TCGL members, $418 non-members (2 x 2 hours)
- ▶ 4 hour regional PD in your area (subject to demand)
Cost per teacher: $77 TCGL members, $99 non-members

The training covers:

- ▶ Background, history and key features of ruMAD?
- ▶ Local and national case studies
- ▶ Demonstration of the Values and Vision workshop (with a class or teachers)
- ▶ How ruMAD? can support learning outcomes in the Tasmanian Curriculum
- ▶ How to make it work in your class
- ▶ Resources and support

All sessions are interactive and adapted to participants' needs.
Curriculum materials and other resources are supplied.

Contact

Tasmanian Centre for Global Learning
email rumad@afairerworld.org phone 6223 1025

Find out more about ruMAD? and MAD activities at Tasmanian schools:
www.afairerworld.org/_Current_projects/rumad.html

What teachers have said about the ruMAD? training:

Wow! So many ideas in such a short period. Practical and do-able. Great to see something that can be done K-10.

Very informative. All questions were answered, nothing was unclear. Passionate and feel good.

I can see the kids being highly engaged in creating real outcomes. The presentation was relevant and made the program seem achievable.

Very exciting. Excellent resources. I look forward to what our students come up with and put into place.

The PD session was delivered in a motivating way and allowed for a high level of group interaction. The content of the session was highly relevant and gave some really inspirational ideas that can be used in our curriculum.

The package of resources that were given to teachers was very comprehensive and will allow for different levels of entry into the program.

An excellent PD, thought provoking & full of practical support/ ideas/resources.

Positive, interactive process. Informative and inspirational. Collective knowledge built within the group. Powerful messages. Good balance of information and engagement. "Nice Biscuits". Non-threatening/judgemental.

ruMAD? is owned nationally by:

Education FOUNDATION
A DIVISION OF FYA

ruMAD? is funded in Tasmania by:

ruMAD? is delivered in Tasmania by:

a fairer world
The Tasmanian Centre for Global Learning